

Frugal Fun

Spider Invasion

Create a fun party game, haunted Halloween funhouse, or just solve the “what to do on a rainy day” conundrum. Kids duck and bend through a hallway of crepe paper or toilet paper spider webs to reach a prize at the end, then carry it back without getting tangled up. All you need to do is tape streamers or toilet paper across a hallway and watch the fun!

For an extra spooky touch, add plastic spiders and bugs to decorate your web and put lamps on the floor for spooky lighting. Pick up toys and candy at Dollar Tree and leave them at the end of the hall as prizes to be saved from the spider invasion!

Fun Tips:

- For another great Halloween party game idea, hunt for the Glowing Ring Toss game on this month's Value Seekers Club Page.
- Have the kids make their own maze to challenge themselves and their friends!
- Not just for kids, try this for adults too! Who hasn't had the “secret agent navigating through lasers” fantasy?
